

MAAS EXIT OPTIONS

To complete the requirements of their degree, MAAS students have the following three options:

- Option A: Thesis (70+ pages)
- Option B: Non-Thesis Master's Essay (40 pages)
- Option C: Non-Thesis Research Essay (20 pages) plus Self-Study (20 pages)

Mid-course in the program (15 credits) the student is required to meet with Dr. Heine, Asian Studies Program Director, to discuss his/her exit option – Option A, B, or C.

If a joint decision is made to select Option A: Thesis, the student must take responsibility to find three graduate faculty members who will form the advisory committee (see faculty list below). Dr. Heine, Program Director, can serve as the primary advisor, a committee member, or as a representative of the Asian Studies Program.

If Option B: Non-Thesis Master's Essay or Option C: Non-Thesis Research Essay plus Self-Study is selected, to what extent a committee is required will be determined in consultation with the Program Director.

	Option A: Thesis	Option B: Non-Thesis Master's Essay Option C: Non-Thesis Research Essay plus Self-Study
