

Asian Studies Program

Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs

A Discussion on Taiwan Issue and the U.S.-China Relation

Sunday, October 29, 2017 | 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM | FIU Modesto A. Maidique Campus | GC 140

The Cross-Strait relation between Taiwan and Mainland China has become complicated and intense after Tsai Ing-wen, leader of the Democratic Progressive Party (DPP), took power in Taiwan in May 2017. The peace and stability of cross-Taiwan Strait and China's diplomacy towards Taiwan meet new challenges. President Trump's new policy towards China and Taiwan also brings a subtle change to the external environment of the Cross-Strait relation. In this situation, what new strategies and new policies would Chinese President XI Jinping adopt and what new measures he would take to face the new changes?

Please join us in a discussion with six experts from China to explore the Cross-Strait relation between Taiwan and Mainland China and the U.S.-China relation as well.

Panelists:

Professor Peng Li, Associate Director of Institute for Taiwan Studies at Xiamen University;

Professor Li Peng, Associate Director of Institute for Taiwan Studies at Xiamen University;

Professor Ye Ji, Assistant Director of Institute for Taiwan Studies at Xiamen University;

Professor Qiang Xin, Director of the Center for Taiwan Studies and Associate Director of the Center for American Studies at Fudan University, Shanghai;

Professor Lan Gao, professor of the Center for Japanese Studies at Fudan University, Shanghai;

Dr. Zhongying Xu, research fellow and Assistant President of Xiamen Association of Taiwan Studies.

Moderator: Dr. Shenggao Wang, Chinese language and culture instructor in Asian Studies Program at FIU.

This event is free and open to the public. All FIU faculty and students are welcome to attend.

For more information, please call 305-348-1914 or contact Dr. Shenggao Wang at wangsh@fiu.edu.

Steven J. Green
School of International & Public Affairs

