ASN 2002 Intro to Asian Societies

New Fall 2018 UCC Course

Tuesdays & Thursdays | 12:30 PM - 1:45 PM | GC 274

Instructor Min Mossman

An introductory critical overview of the regions of South, Southeast, and East Asia, focusing on the unique cultures of this diverse continent. An interdisciplinary perspective is used to examine such dynamic themes as class, gender, and contemporary social issues as effected by modernization. The assignments will lead students to develop skills in textual interpretation, critical thinking, and academic writing.

This course can thereby serve as an introduction for the further study of Asian art, culture, history, and politics. Relevant cultural and historical contexts will be provided in class. No background in Asian Studies or an Asian language is required.
